REPORTER: Darryl

DATE STORY AIRED: 5/7/08

TIME: 9pm/10pm

STATION: WPTY/WLMT

SYNOPSIS (PROVIDE COMPLETE INFORMATION) :

Education—this story showed the public how much teen pregnancy can cost a city, and the impact it can have on a teen's life.

Family members of a man killed in a fatal accident want answers about what really happened early Sunday morning. Ignacio Arcos was killed when his car flipped.
Deputy Alvin Dortch says Arcos died after speeding past him.
The Shelby County Sheriff's Office says that doesn't match the video from Dortch's dash cam.
Dortch is now suspended with pay during the investigation

Cameras were installed in all Shelby County squad cars more than 2 years ago..
When a deputy turns on his blue lights the camera automatically starts recording.
There are 2 cameras per car. One camera shows the front on the car, another is points toward the back seat. It costs about $6,000 per car to outfit the cars with the camera and equipment.

At the end of each deputies shift the video is automatically sent to a computer server. The deputy does not have the opportunity to touch the video.

The Arcos family is interested in what was recorded when Arcos died
According to deputy Alvin Dortch, he had just finished a traffic stop when arcos drove by him. Dortch says moments later he discovered Arcos truck upside down, the 23 year old was dead. A camera in the deputies car may show something else

Eyewitness News Everywhere has uncovered Arcos may not have wanted to be stopped by the deputy. Court records show he's twice had alcohol related arrests. The most recent last March when he was charged with a long list of things including driving under the influence.

We do not know if Arcos was drinking when he crashed, but deputies do know cameras provide evidence for court cases, and for complaints that may be filed against deputies.

In addition to the cameras recording when the deputy turns on his blue lights, it also automatically records if the car goes over 90 miles per hour or if sensors go off indicating there has been a crash.

As for Dortch, these are some of the things we found in Alvin Dortch's file:

1987 - Dortch became a deputy. He had been a jailer before then. Dortch had one of the three lowest firearm scores in the class.

1987 - oral reprimand for grabbing a car and taking off during his shift without permission

1992 - suspended five days without pay. In a letter after a disciplinary hearing, the board said Dortch lied to them several times during the hearing and changed his story. The letter said he later apologized to the board for lying. He was first called before the board because an instructor at the firing range said Dortch was using a semi-automatic pistol that he wasn't supposed to be using. Dortch told the instructor he had permission to use it, but the board said he didn't.

1992 - suspended three days without pay for insubordination. Officers say he was told to call off a chase with a man on Highway 64
